Title: Automated Case Support
Red Team Review
Results from ACS Advisory Group

Synopsis: To report findings of advisory group for ACS functionality.

Reference: 242-HQ-A1078703 Serial 356

Enclosures: List of ACS Functionality Advisory Group members.
Documentation of discussed Red Team Recommendations with results and status.

Details: As requested by the IRM Official in the referenced communication, an advisory group was formed as a Remedy Team for the ACS Red Team recommendations concerning ACS Functionality. A cross section of field offices was selected to include large, medium and small offices, offices which are successfully embracing ACS, and offices from various time zones. Management officials (SAC and/or ASAC) in these offices were contacted by IRD, asked to assist in addressing Red Team recommendations, and were instructed to name ACS 'experts' to this advisory group. FBIHQ divisions were selected and contacted in a similar manner to name advisors, also. The group is made up of field office Special Agents, Supervisory Special Agents, Information Management Analysts (Rotor), Supervisory Administrative Specialist (SAS), Computer Specialists, and FBIHQ Special Agents and Support Persons. A list of ACS Functionality Advisory Group members is included as an enclosure to this communication.

This group was convened at FBIHQ August 20-21, 1997 to discuss, analyze, and establish priorities for recommendations from the Red Team Review in the area of ACS Functionality. Certain recommendations from the Red Team Review area of ACS Training, Policy and Procedure that may result in modifications to ACS functionality were also included in the advisory group review. The seminar was very successful, because offices did indeed send their experts, and the group was able to focus directly on the recommendations and come to consensus on the implementation of the recommendations. All selected recommendations were discussed. Findings of the group include instructions to modify ACS functionality to meet the needs of the user community for certain recommendations, a decision to make no changes to ACS for other recommendations, and a strategy to respond to the remaining recommendations. The results for each recommendation are documented in the second enclosure to this communication.

It was agreed upon by the members of the ACS Advisory Group that this group be maintained to assist IRD ACS support teams for analysis and setting of priorities for other ACS enhancement requests.
